

curriculum vitae:

Thomas Starke (Head of Development, 3D MicroPrint) was born in Mittweida, Germany in 1978. He received Diploma in Mechanical Engineering from Chemnitz University of Technology in 2002. From 2002 to 2007 he was working as project manager in automotive industry at MZ Engineering GmbH, Hohndorf, Germany and joined the 3D-Micromac AG, Chemnitz, Germany as hardware developer in the field of laser micro machining in 2007. He worked on the development of a joint venture project of EOS GmbH and 3D-Micromac AG in the field of laser micro sintering as group leader of the hardware and software development. With the foundation of 3D-MicroPrint GmbH, Chemnitz, Germany in 2013 he took over the position as Head of Development.

